Proposed Solution:

S.No.	Parameter	Description
1.	Problem Statement (Problem to be solved)	Employees in large enterprise organizations often raise workplace-related issues through emails or informal communication channels. This results in inconsistent data capture, difficulty in tracking issues, delayed resolution, and inconsistent prioritization and assignment. There is a need for a centralized and standardized mechanism to raise and manage Employee Issues.
2.	Idea / Solution description	Configure a ServiceNow Employee Issue Record Producer integrated with the Service Portal . Employees can submit workplace-related issues through a structured interface instead of directly accessing the custom table. The solution captures standardized information and supports validations, Category–Subcategory dependency, controlled field behaviour, and structured Employee Issue record creation.
3.	Novelty / Uniqueness	The solution combines a Record Producer and Service Portal to provide a controlled employee-facing issue-submission experience while creating records directly in the custom Employee Issue table. It standardizes issue information and applies platform configurations such as field dependencies and validation controls instead of relying on unstructured email-based communication.
4.	Social Impact / Customer Satisfaction	The solution provides employees with a simpler and more standardized way to raise workplace-related issues. It reduces dependence on informal communication, improves the consistency of submitted information, and provides a structured basis for managing and tracking employee issues. This can improve the overall employee experience and reduce manual effort for HR and support teams.

5.	Business Model (Revenue Model)	This is an internal enterprise workflow solution , so it does not directly generate revenue. Its business value comes from reducing manual effort, standardizing issue submission, improving issue management, and reducing delays caused by fragmented communication. The solution can be implemented within an organization's existing ServiceNow platform.
6.	Scalability of the Solution	The solution can be extended to support additional employee issue categories, subcategories, departments, assignment groups, validations, and workflow requirements. The Record Producer and Service Portal approach can also be reused for other internal service processes, allowing the solution to scale across departments and organizational requirements.
